Short Term Rental Zoning Study and Proposed Zoning Code Amendments:

Saint Paul is studying short term rentals and considering how to more effectively regulate them, as they are currently illegal under Saint Paul zoning code. A short term rental is a house, apartment, bedroom, or even couch rented for less than 30 days and typically booked on websites like Airbnb and VRBO . More information:

Rice Street Transportation Safety Study

Rice Street is being studied from University to Larpenteur avenues during 2017. The transportation safety study will consider pedestrians, bikes, transit, vehicles and parking and will guide future investments in sidewalks, bikeways, transit and the roadway.

The purpose of the Rice Street transportation safety study is to:

Identify future investments.

Design a corridor that will enhance the safety for all modes of transportation.

Promote economic growth and community investment.

Community Meetings have begun and the next is May 2nd . Here is the website-sign up for updates or give your opinion.
